Leadership is Influence

Women today are leaders in various spheres of influence, be it politics, business, medicine, and even in the Church and ministry.

As Daughters of Destiny, leadership potential is innate in every young Christian woman. What is needed is a spark to ignite the flame that will help them rise up to their destiny. Steered in the right direction, this leadership potential can be developed into true, godly leadership skills.

This seminar hopes to ignite the spark that will light the flame to help young women discover their potential and begin their journey of leadership development.

The NECF Women's Commission aims to hone future women leaders who will have a positive influence and impact on the home, schools and colleges, in the Church, community and nation.
